Commentary

Inflation is the economic measure with the greatest power to determine the course of financial markets over the next year. With many of the distortions wrought by the pandemic still working their way through year-on-year statistics, it is too early to judge if the spike in inflation is transitory (as central banks largely continue to insist) or is becoming entrenched. Equity valuations are lofty and companies not only face higher tax rates but also a squeeze on profit margins from rising wage, energy, raw material and transport costs.
