

GWM Asset Management Sustainable Moderately Adventurous

Portfolio Objectives

The aim of the portfolio is to provide capital accumulation over the long term from a mixture of income and capital growth by investing predominantly in equities, with some exposure to fixed income and other defensive assets. The portfolio will be made up of investments that seek to include companies or entities which aim to have a positive environmental or social impact or mitigate environmental and social harm. The risk level can primarily be defined by the equity exposure, which will range between 65% and 80% at the time of investment. The portfolio is managed to a volatility range of between 10.7% and 12.3% over rolling 10-year time periods. This is not guaranteed, and actual volatility may fluctuate outside of these boundaries. It should be emphasised that portfolios investing within a responsible framework may experience higher levels of volatility than expected, especially over shorter time-frames.

Commentary

Bond and stock markets served up a rollercoaster ride in the first quarter of 2023 but closed in positive territory. Failures and shotgun weddings in the banking sector stole the headlines in March and there are likely to be further casualties due to the abrupt withdrawal of the punchbowl of ultra-cheap liquidity from which governments, companies and investors have been binging for more than a decade. The banking sector as a whole, though, is much more robust than it was before 2008's financial crisis. The outlook for bond markets looks finely balanced as the tug-of-war between inflation and economic growth continues. Investors in bonds are at least now being paid a reasonable rate of return just to own them. In equity markets, companies most at risk are those which will need to refinance high levels of debt. In contrast, companies with dominant market positions are best placed not only to raise prices at least in line with inflation but also to weather any economic downturn.
