Portfolio Objectives

The aim of the portfolio is to provide capital accumulation over the long term from a mixture of income and capital growth by investing in a mix of equities, fixed income and other defensive assets. The portfolio will be made up of investments that seek to include companies or entities which aim to have a positive environmental or social impact or mitigate environmental and social harm. The risk level can primarily be defined by the equity exposure, which will range between 25% and 40% at the time of investment. The portfolio is managed to a volatility range of between 5.9% and 7.5% over rolling 10-year time periods. This is not guaranteed, and actual volatility may fluctuate outside of these boundaries. It should be emphasised that portfolios investing within a responsible framework may experience higher levels of volatility than expected, especially over shorter time-frames.

Commentary

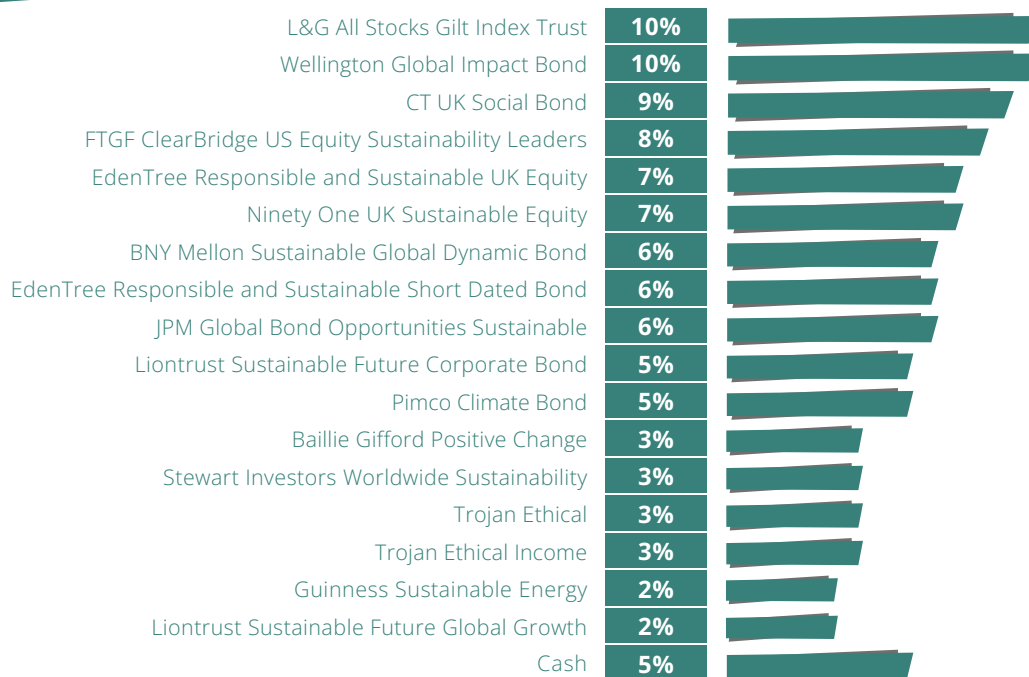

Whilst at the year's open recession fears were one of the key risks highlighted for 2023 thus far, we have escaped a material downturn. This is despite the fact that we have seen significantly higher interest rates, US and European bank collapses and takeovers and an escalation of hostilities in the Middle East. The US, as the world's largest economy, actually experienced a period of quite impressive expansion. Inflation has slowed markedly and markets have started to anticipate interest rates cuts in the UK, US and Europe in 2024. Interest rates were kept on hold in all three regions in December. Bond and equity markets responded energetically to the prospect of interest rate cuts in the final quarter and most delivered strong gains for the year. Nevertheless, the prospects for future returns still bode well. Bond yields are at attractive levels and stock markets could benefit from a broadening of investor interest, beyond the massive US companies that gained such favour in 2023.
